

JAPANESE SOCIETY OF INTERNATIONAL LAW
PROGRAMME OF THE 126TH ANNUAL MEETING (2023)*

4 – 6 September 2023

Day 1

SESSION 1: WHAT DOES IT MEAN TO “VIOLATE” INTERNATIONAL LAW?

Monday, 4 September, 14:00-17:30

Chair: NISHI Taira, Professor, Kansai University

1. Violation of the Non-Use of Force Principle and Significance of States' Responses
MORI Tadashi, Professor, the University of Tokyo

2. Legal Consequences of Violating WTO Obligations
——Reassessing Dispute Settlement Mechanisms
FUKUNAGA Yuka, Professor, Waseda University

3. When a State Rejects a Judgment or an Award of an International Court or Tribunal
——Recent Practices and their Implications
LEE-IWAMOTO Yoshiyuki, Professor, Okayama University

4. Legalising International Law?
——Beyond the Judicial Determination of the Breach of International Obligations
KAKU Shun, Professor, Waseda University

Day 2

SESSION 2: WHAT IS “VIOLATION” IN STATE JURISDICTION?

Tuesday, 5 September, 10:00-13:00

Chair: NAKATANI Kazuhiro, Professor, the University of Tokyo

---

* All the presentations will be made in Japanese.

1. Dynamic Understanding of Rules Governing State Jurisdiction

——Interplay between Facts and Rules

FURUYA Shuichi, Professor, Waseda University

2. “Extraterritoriality” and Economic Sanctions

YOSHIMURA Sachiko, Professor, Kwansei Gakuin University

3. Freedom of Navigation on the High Seas and Protection of International Public Interests

——From Recent Discussions on the Exclusive Jurisdiction of the Flag State

KOJIMA Chie, Professor, Chuo University

SESSION 3: PARALLEL THREE PANELS

Tuesday, 5 September, 14:30-17:30

PANEL 1: EFFECT OF “VIOLATION”

Chair: NAIKI Yoshiko, Professor, Nagoya University

1. “Violation” of Global Financial Regulations such as the Basel Accords

MORISHITA Tetsuo, Professor, Sophia University

2. “Violation” in Intellectual Property Regulations

——Focusing on International Disputes over Standard Essential Patent

SHIN Miho, Associate Professor, Meiji Gakuin University

3. Private Standards/Regulations and their Violations in the Law of the Sea

NAKAMURA Hideyuki, Senior Researcher, Japan Maritime Center

4. Infringements of Multilateral Environmental Agreements and the Effectiveness of Global Governance

YAMADA Takahiro, Professor, Nagoya University

PANEL 2: DO LAWS THAT EVADE “VIOLATIONS” WORK?

Chair: NISHIMURA Yumi, Professor, the University of Tokyo

1. Current Situations and Future Agendas of Non-Compliance Systems in International Environmental Law

SHIGETA Yasuhiro, Professor, Osaka Gakuin University

2. More than Goals but Less than Governance

——The Effectiveness of the Sustainable Development Goals

OGAWA Hiroko, Professor, Tokai University

3. What has “Legitimacy-talk” Brought about?

——The Significance of Inquiring into Legitimacy

MOCHIDUKI Yasue, Professor, Kwansei Gakuin University

4. Characteristics of International Conciliation

——Causes of Inactivity and Future Possibilities

TAMADA Dai, Professor, Kyoto University

Commentator

TAKASUGI Naoshi, Professor, Doshisha University

PANEL 3: “VIOLATIONS” IN INTERNATIONAL CRIMINAL LAW

Chair: MAYAMA Akira, Professor, Osaka Gakuin University

1. What International Law Rules are Violated by Core Crimes Perpetrators?

——Individual Criminal Responsibility under International Law Revisited

SAKAMOTO Kazuya, Professor, Gifu University

2. Pursuing the Responsibilities of Genocide

——Is the Genocide Convention a Restriction or a Facilitator?

INAZUMI Mitsue, Professor, Kanazawa University

3. Who are the Victims of Core Crimes (Except the Crime of Genocide)?

SAITO Yuga David, Assistant Legal Officer, International Criminal Court

4. Implementation of International Criminal Law

——Criminalization of Crimes and Offences under the Rome Statute of the International Criminal Court

KO Keiko, Professor, Nanzan University

Day 3

SESSION 4: OPEN CALL SESSION

Wednesday, 6 September, 10:00-13:00

PANEL 1

Chair: NISHIUMI Maki, Professor, Chuo University

1. Representation of Member States at the United Nations

——The Effectiveness and the Legitimacy of Governments

TANAKA Sayoko, Professor, Hosei University

2. Emotions in International Law

—— (De-/Re-) Embodiement of International Lawyer

NEGISHI Yota, Associate Professor, Seinan Gakuin University

Chair: NISHIMOTO Kentaro, Professor, Tohoku University

3. Legal Status of Climate Change Adaptation Measures to Sea-level Rise

HONDA Yusuke, Associate Professor, Kobe University

PANEL 2

Chair: NISHITANI Yuko, Professor, Kyoto University

1. Climate Change Litigation and “Business and Human Rights”

——Corporate Liability for Emission in the Global Value Chain

NARAZAKI Midori, Professor, Chuo University

Chair: TERAYA Koji, Professor, the University of Tokyo

2. When is the State Estopped from Denying Attribution?

——Decoding ARSIWA Article 11

OKADA Yohei, Associate Professor, Kobe University

3. Consensus in the European Court of Human Rights

——Critical Appraisal Focused on the Protection of Vulnerable People

YOSHIDA Akinaga, Assistant Professor, Waseda University

PANEL 3

Chair: KIRIYAMA Takanobu, Professor, Osaka Metropolitan University

1. Development and Significance of Self-determination Principle in the Peace Agreements on the Korean Peninsula

MIURA Hiroki, Senior Researcher, Seoul National University

Chair: MORITA Akio, Professor, Hosei University

2. The Meanings and Functions of Permissive Norms in International Humanitarian Law (IHL)

——Reconsidering the Raison d'être of IHL

TAMURA Eriko, Associate Professor, Miyazaki Municipal University

3. Nuclear Security during an Armed Conflict

FUKUI Yasuhito, Senior Post Doctoral Researcher, Japan Atomic Energy Agency

SESSION 5: OPEN CALL PANEL SESSION

Wednesday, 6 September, 14:30-17:30

PANEL 1: THE IMPACT OF JAPANESE STATE PRACTICE ON INTERNATIONAL LAW

Chair: OBATA Kaoru, Professor, Nagoya University

1. The Purpose of the Project and Analysis in the Field of Environmental Law

ISHIBASHI Kanami, Associate Professor, Tokyo University of Foreign Studies

2. From the Perspective of Human Rights Law

MAEDA Naoko, Professor, Kyoto Women's University

3. From the Perspective of Privileges and Immunities

MIZUSHIMA Tomonori, Professor, Nagoya University

4. From the Perspective of Criminal Law

TAKEMURA Hitomi, Professor, Hitotsubashi University

Commentator

TOYODA Tetsuya, Professor, Akita International University

PANEL 2: DOMESTIC CRIMINAL PROCEEDINGS IN UKRAINE AGAINST WAR CRIMES IN THE RUSSO-UKRAINIAN WAR

Chair: ARAI Kyo, Professor, Doshisha University

1. Features of the War and Domestic Proceedings

YASUI Kengo, Lecturer, Chukyo University

2. National Prosecution of War Crimes and Combatant's Privilege

KUBOTA Takashi, Assistant Professor, Teikyo University

3. Individual Criminal Responsibility

YOKOHAMA Kazuya, Associate Professor, Shinshu University

4. Relationship with the ICC Investigation

OZAKI Kuniko, Specially Appointed Professor, Chuo University

5. From the Perspective of the Hybrid Tribunal

NAKAZAWA Yuka, Part-time Lecturer, Kanagawa University