

JAPANESE SOCIETY OF INTERNATIONAL LAW
PROGRAMME OF THE 128TH ANNUAL MEETING (2025)*

24-26 August 2025

Day 1

SESSION 1: “THE POSTWAR SYSTEM TODAY AND ITS PROSPECTS

Sunday, 24 August, 14:00-17:30

Chair: UEKI Toshiya, Professor, Tohoku University

1. Negotiated or Contested Exceptions to Prohibitive Principles of International Order
ISHIDA Atsushi, Professor, University of Tokyo
2. The Liberal International Order and the United Nations System in Crisis:
Examination of Issues Surrounding the “Rule of Law”
SHIMIZU Nanako, Professor, Utsunomiya University
3. Possibility and Limits of ‘Humanization’ in International Humanitarian Law:
Rethinking the Rules of Non-International Armed Conflict
KAWAGISHI Shin, Professor, Shizuoka University
4. From Multilateralism to Minilateralism? Structural Challenges to the WTO-
Centered Global Trade Order
KOBAYASHI Tomohiko, Professor, Otaru University of Commerce

Day 2

SESSION 2: PARALELL THREE PANELS

Monday, 25 August, 10:00-13:00

Panel 1: THIRD-STATE RESPONSES TO MILITARY INVASIONS IN

---

* All the presentations except for the first presentation of Panel 2 and those in the Panel 3 will be made in Japanese.

UKRAINE AND GAZA

Chair: IWATSUKI Naoki, Professor, Rikkyo University

1. Establishment of a Special Tribunal for the Crime of Aggression against Ukraine: Legal Issues and a Few Observations - a Practitioner's Perspective

HASEBE Jun, Director, International Legal Affairs Division
Ministry of Foreign Affairs

2. Is the Proliferation of International Criminal Justice Organizations Problem?: Constitutionalism and Pluralism on the Fragmentation of International Criminal Procedure

OCHI Megumi, Associate Professor, Ritsumeikan University

3. Side Effects of Economic Sanctions: Impacts on the Diplomatic and Military Policies of Sanctioning and Third-Party States

FUJITA Masafumi, Associate Professor, Kwansei Gakuin University

4. Invocation of the Responsibility of Third-parties to Armed Conflicts for their Wrongful Acts relating to Arms Transfer by Third States: Focusing the Obligation “to ensure respect” under Article 1 of the Geneva Conventions

HIROMI Masayuki, Associate Professor, Kobe City University of Foreign Studies

PANEL 2: JURISDICTION IN PRIVATE INTERNATIONAL LAW

Chair: SANO Hiroshi, Professor Emeritus, Okayama University

1. Judicial Jurisdiction in Private International Law

TSANG Dicky, Associate Professor, Chinese University of Hong Kong

2. Restatement (Fourth) of The Foreign Relations Law of the United States and Jurisdiction to Prescribe

TANAKA Miho, Professor, Kindai University

3. Service of Documents and Taking of Evidence Abroad from the Perspective of

Jurisdiction to Adjudicate and to Enforce

TADA Nozomi, Professor, Seinan Gakuin University

Commentator: TAKEUCHI Mari, Professor, Kobe University

PANEL 3: KOREA-JAPAN JOINT SESSION

Theme: THE DEVELOPMENT OF INTERNATIONAL HUMAN RIGHTS LAW IN KOREA: HISTORY AND FUTURE

Chair: SO Byung-Chun, Professor, Ajou University

1. Recognition of International Human Rights Law in Korean Trials: Key Legal Issues

BAEK Buhm-Suk, Professor, Kyung Hee University

2. Application of Human Rights Treaties in Korean Courts: A Quantitative and Qualitative Analysis

LEE Hyeyoung, Assistant Professor, Seoul National University

Discussants: TOYODA Tetsuya, Professor, Akita International University

NISHI Taira, Professor, Kansai University

SESSION 3: PARALLEL THREE PANELS

Monday, 25 August, 14:30-17:30

PANEL 4: SIGNIFICANCE OF INTERNATIONAL JUDICIAL INSTITUTIONS IN THE INTERNATIONAL ORDER

Chair: TAMADA Dai, Professor, Kyoto University

1. Some Reflections on the Advisory Jurisdiction in the Current International Community

KAWANO Mariko, Professor, Waseda University

2. Development of Provisional Measures at the International Court of Justice

ISHIZUKA Chisa, Professor, Toyo University

3. Dynamics of Third-State Intervention before the ICJ: Recent Developments
TAKASHIBA Yukiko, Professor, Seinan Gakuin University

4. Political Science Experiments on International Courts and Legal Institutions
TAGO Atsushi, Professor, Waseda University

Commentator: NAKAJIMA Kei, Associate Professor, University of Tokyo

PANEL 5: OPEN CALL SESSION

Chair: WANI Kentaro, Professor, Osaka University

1. Crippling Compensation after Armed Conflict: The Dilemma between Justice and Peace

SASAKI Gen, PhD candidate, Doshisha University

2. Structural Change of Diplomatic Protection: Towards a Reconstruction of the Theory of State Responsibility

KAIDE Yusuke, Associate Professor, Hokkaido University

3. An Examination of the European Court of Human Rights' Application of the Proportionality Test to Article 1 of Protocol No. 1 to the European Convention on Human Rights; A Framework for Reevaluating International Investment Arbitration Awards

SHINTANI Satomi, Assistant Professor, University of Tokyo

PANEL 6: OPEN CALL PANEL: DEVELOPMENT AND ENFORCEMENT OF REGIONAL FISHERIES MANAGEMENT ORGANIZATIONS' CONSERVATION AND MANAGEMENT MEASURES FOR LIVING RESOURCES

Chair: TSURUTA Jun, Associate Professor, Meiji Gakuin University

1. Legal and Institutional Development of RFMOs: With a Particular Focus on the Objection Procedure of SPRFMO

INOMATA Hideo, Professor, Tokyo University of Marine Science and Technology

2. The Development of Listing Procedure of the IUU Fishing by the RFMOs
SETA Makoto, Associate Professor, Waseda University

3. The Current Development of Catch Documentation Scheme in RFMOs
RAITA Maiko, Associate Professor, Osaka University

Commentator: KOYANO Mari, Professor, Hokkaido University

Day 3

SESSION 4: PARALELL THREE PANELS

Tuesday, 26 August, 10:00-13:00

PANEL 7: RETHINKING THE MAINSTREAMING OF HUMAN RIGHTS

Chair: SUAMI Takao, Professor, Waseda University

1. The Significance of the Convention against Torture in the Mainstreaming of Human Rights"
MAEDA Naoko, Professor, Nagoya University
2. Individual Rights under International Humanitarian Law: Do They Incorporate Human Rights Norms?
TAMURA Eriko, Associate Professor, Miyazaki Municipal University
3. Centrality and Peripherality of Human Rights in International Trade Law: The Current Stage of Market-based Human Rights Protection
HIRAMI Kenta, Associate Professor, University of Nagasaki
4. Protection of Children across Borders and the Hague Children's Convention: Recent Developments and Challenges in Japanese Law
MURAKAMI Ai, Professor, Sophia University

PANEL 8: OPEN CALL SESSION

Chair: TAKEUCHI Mari, Professor, Kobe University

1. Interactions between “the Land Dominates the Sea” Principle and Adaptive Measures to Sea-Level Rise: Implications for Coastal State Jurisdiction

OTSUJI Koki, PhD candidate, Nihon University

2. The Historical Context of the 19th-Century Theory of Piracy and Its Implication for Today

KANNO Naoyuki, Part-time Lecturer, Hosei University

3. United Nations Convention against Cybercrime- Pursuit for Japan’s Conclusion of This Convention

FUKUI Yasuhito

Former Senior Post-Doctoral Researcher, the Japan Atomic Energy Agency

PANEL 9: OPEN CALL PANEL: INTERNATIONAL LAW TEACHING IN JAPAN, UNDE VENIS, QUO VADIS?: TOWARDS CO-REFLECTION AND COLLABORATION

Chair: OSAKADA Yuko, Professor, Chuo University

1. The Trajectory of International Law Education in Japan: A Contextual Analysis

OGURI Hirofumi, Associate Professor, Keio University

2. Current State of International Law Education in Japan: An Empirical Analysis of Teaching Materials

NISUGI Kento, Associate Professor, Osaka University

3. International Law Teaching as “Apprendre Ensemble”: Intersubjectivity between Students and Teachers

NEGISHI Yota, Professor, Seinan Gakuin University

4. International Law Teaching as Field-Building

HIRANO Miharuru, Associate Professor, Kobe University

Commentator: THIPSAMRITKUL Thitirat, Assistant Professor, Thammasat University

SESSION 5: PARALLEL TWO PANELS

Tuesday, 26 August, 14:30-17:30

PANEL 10: CLIMATE CHANGE AND INTERNATIONAL LAW AND INSTITUTIONS: A CROSS-CUTTING EXAMINATION

Chair: NISHIMURA Tomoaki, Professor, Ritsumeikan University

1. Requests for Advisory Opinions of International Judicial Institutions and Japan's Engagement in Their Proceedings

NAKAMURA Kazuhiko, Director-General, International Legal Affairs Division,
Ministry of Foreign Affairs

2. Climate Change and Protection of Biodiversity and Human Rights

KIMURA Hitomi, Associate Professor, Otsuma Women's University

3. The Transformation of International Trade Law in the Age of Climate Change: New Developments in the Regulation of Fossil Fuel Subsidies

ISHIKAWA Yoshimichi, Associate Professor, University of Shizuoka

4. The External Dimensions of the European Green Deal—— from the Perspective of the EU Global Strategy

USUI Yoichiro, Professor, Niigata University of International and Information Studies

Commentator: FUJITA Daichi, Lecturer, Yokohama National University

PANEL 11: GENOCIDE AND THE INTERNATIONAL COURT OF JUSTICE

Chair: TAMADA Dai, Professor, Kyoto University

1. The Relationship between Individual and State Responsibility for Genocide: A Review of “Duality” of Responsibility

TAKEMURA Hitomi, Professor, Hitotsubashi University

2. Interaction between ICJ and International Criminal Tribunal and Court in Handling of the Genocide Cases

INAZUMI Mitsue, Professor, Nihon University

3. Bilateralism of Dispute Arising Out of the Breach of Obligation Erga Omnes Parties:
the ICJ Cases on the Violation of Genocide Convention

BANZAI Hiroyuki, Professor, Waseda University

4. Performing the Duty to Prevent Genocide through Export Control: Transfers of Military Materials to Israel in National Courts and the ICJ

OSHITA Jun, Senior Lecturer, Hiroshima City University

5. Politicization of the Crime of Genocide in Light of the New Wave of Genocide
Litigation before the ICJ

OSA Yukie, Professor, Rikkyo University